SEPTEMBER 2021

Welcome back to GlassBuild America! After the pandemic put the world on pause in 2020, the industry is finally reuniting for buying and business building that only an in-person trade show can deliver.

It is my pleasure to welcome you back to Atlanta on behalf of the National Glass Association (NGA), the Board of Directors, our association and event sponsors, and—of course–our exhibitors.

Exhibiting companies are the pulse of GlassBuild and of the entire glass, window and door industry. We hope you visit with as many as you can. Now more than ever we all need to strengthen vendor relationships, broaden our supply chain contacts, and work smarter. The suppliers here this week can help your business continue to succeed.

Some attendees this week are also elevating their GlassBuild experience with NGA education and networking events—Glazing Executives Forum and NGA Glass Conference: September. There they will gain knowledge, share pain points and help identify new initiatives.

One of those new initiatives I'd like to share is the collaborative Industry Pavilion in booth 3625. This is where you will find around 20 associations and organizations serving our industry, including NGA staff ready to discuss our resources and provide technical and training insights. The Industry Pavilion also features GlassBuildTV with videos provided by the participating organizations. Please make time in your schedule to stop by.

Welcome back to GlassBuild, thank you for joining us.

How Can We Help You?

Find all industry resources in booth #3625! This year's Industry Pavilion is a collaborative initiative that brings glass, fenestration and construction industry resources together for the first time on the new GlassBuildTV platform, featuring information from nearly 20 different organizations. Plus, meet with staff from NGA and FGIA in person.

NATIONAL GLASS ASSOCIATION with GANA

The National Glass Association (NGA) combined with the Glass Association of North America (GANA) in 2018 to create the largest trade association serving our industry. NGA is an advocacy and technical powerhouse that brings the best minds to the table to create technical resources, and to promote and advocate for glass in buildings.

The NGA member community is 1,700 companies strong. We are contract glaziers and full-service glass companies. We are manufacturers and suppliers. We are fabricators of insulating, laminating, tempering, decorative/mirror, fire-rated, protective glazing and high-performance glass products

NGA's technical papers and manuals, and business resources help guide you and your company to success. Our online training courses at MyGlassClass.com, plus apprentice curriculum, teach job skills and knowledge that will complement your company's on-the-job training.

NGA brings news, product announcements and financial insights directly to you through our official magazines Glass Magazine and Window + Door.

Our many events throughout the year—GlassBuild America, the Building Envelope Contractors (BEC) Conference, NGA Glass Conferences, Glazing Executives Forum and GPAD (Glass Processing Automation Days) and monthly Thirsty Thursday webinars—provide a gathering place for you to learn, share, engage, and make connections.

NGA is the key resource to our members to stay informed and help grow successful businesses. Visit us in booth 3625 or online at glass.org to see how we are leading the industry through collaboration.

FGIA
Fenestration & Glazing Industry Alliance

On January 1, 2020, AAMA and IGMA unified into one organization, the Fenestration and Glazing Industry Alliance, or FGIA.

Two industry powerhouses came together to form an exponentially stronger alliance. Designed to help our members excel in a dynamic and fast-moving future, FGIA is focused on building better industry synergies from glass to framing.

FGIA is dedicated to improving home and building performance through better glass, window, door and skylight technology and standards. We are an inclusive community leading the glass and fenestration industry through research, consensus-based standards, product certification, advocacy and education and professional development.

The intent of the alliance is to bring exponential value to members today and even more in the ever-changing future. For more information, visit FGIAonline.org or contact membership@FGIAonline.org. Join us in the Industry Pavilion (booth 3625) during the show.

THEY WANT IT.
YOU NEED IT.
WE MAKE IT.
